

The floor plan, labeled POZIOM -1 (POZIOM +4,11), depicts a large, irregularly shaped building footprint. The central area is dominated by a large, open space with a grid of structural columns. To the left, there is a series of smaller rooms and corridors, some of which are shaded with diagonal lines. To the right, a large, rectangular room is visible, also with a grid of columns. The plan includes numerous room numbers, dimensions, and a detailed structural grid. The overall layout is complex, with many small rooms and corridors interspersed throughout the main structure.
